

Biography:

Anette Müllertz, PhD, University of Copenhagen, Denmark
Professor in Oral Drug Delivery and Industrial Relations

Email: anette.mullertz@sund.ku.dk

Anette Müllertz is professor in oral drug delivery and industrial relations at the University of Copenhagen, Denmark (UCPH) and head of Bioneer:FARMA, a business unit of Bioneer A/S, which is a research-based, non-for-profit service provider within the area of biomedicine and pharmaceutical development. She got her PhD at the Technical University of Denmark and since worked at Novo Nordisk for 9 year. Presently, she is heading the Physiological Pharmaceutics Research Group at UCPH, focusing on oral lipid-based drug delivery systems and predictive biopharmaceutics tools. She has >260 publications in international, peer-reviewed journals with >16000 citations. She is / has been supervising 12 post docs, 54 PhD students and numerous master students, primarily at the University of Copenhagen. She is Fellow at the American Association of Pharmaceutical Scientists (2022), Fellow at the Controlled Release Society (2023), and recipient of the Industry Collaboration Prize at the Danish Natural Science Academy (2024).